Climax Manufacturing Company

Problem Solver: I'm Looking for something "Special" for my packaging program.

The Problem:

How can I provide my customers with a gift box that's unique, something that will set us apart from our competitors? I'm looking for a design that says something special about our company, yet is easy to assemble and won't clutter up my storeroom or sales area.

The Solution:

Climax Manufacturing has developed a creative program that offers our valued customers the opportunity to include decorative ribbons, stylish cords, or even color coordinated grommets with their packaging program. Whether it's your everyday program or a special offering for the holiday season, Climax is sure to have an idea that's just right for you.

Benefits:

The manufacturing process that is employed for these items provides the end user with "value-added" items that are attached directly to the package. This results in only one SKU, no loose pieces collecting in the sales area, and provides a convenient, yet classy addition to your packaging program. Set yourself apart from the competition! Contact your Climax Manufacturing Representative for additional information.
